PINGREE'S SUCCESS.

Washington, July 9.—For Lower Michigan Showers; variable winds; cooler in southern portions.

This morning's dispatches plainly indicate that the voices of the people are being asserted in the gubernatorial canvass. Mr. Pingree's friends outvoted the opposition by overwhelming majorities in his own city and county, not a solitary ward or township electing Rich delegates. In Macomb county an attempt was made by the Rich men to pass the unit rule against the protest of a large minority and it was finally declared successful, whereupon twenty-four men left the convention wherein they had been denied a hearing by the arbitrary majority. In Bay City the friends of fair play prevailed by handsome majorities and Bay county will send a solid Pingree delegation to Saginaw. The first ward cancus, the eleventh held in this city, was controlled by the friends of Mr. Pingree and Mr. McCoy. A division was brought about by an unfortunate misunderstanding, and two caucuses were held, but the results in each were favorable to Mr. Pingree. The cauous held at the time and place designated by the city committee will by ail party precedents be held to be the regular caucus, and its delegates will be recognized. It is probable that in the interest of harmony an amicable adjustment of any differences will be effected before the county convention shall be held. The relative strength, numerically, of the two caucuses, regardless of anterior motives, shows conclusively that THE HERALD is rethree of the republican voters in this

DOUBTFUL STATES.

In the hurry and bustle of pre-convention strife the relative strength of the two parties in the coming contest is conjured to suit the prejudice rather than to fit the facts. The doubtful states, or states which have been placed | average almanac. in that category by common consent, will be the chief battle grounds for the coming struggle. A high democratic anthority concedes that of the states which voted for Cleveland in 1888, when he was defeated by Harrison, the following may be classed as doubtful: Connecticut 6 West Virginia 6 North Carolina II South Carolina 7 Total 32

Michigan is taken out of the republican column and her vote is divided and the claim is made that the democrate will have an of the fourteen electoral votes. It will thus be seen that the whole number of votes claimed by the democrats to be doubtful is 212. Out of these doubtful states the republicans are sure to carry California, Colorado, Illinois, Indians, Iowa, Kansas, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Nebraska, Nevada, New Hampshire, Rhode Island and Wisconsin and eight of the electoral districts of Michigan, leaving the whole number of votes in actual doubt at seventy-nine. The total vote in the electoral college is 444, making 223 votes necessary to a choice. Four years ago the electoral college contained 401 votes, of which Harrison received 233, It therefore follows that to secure an election this year the republican must drew Carnegie's size. carry every state carried four years ago, or in default of doing so carry one or more states heretofore democratic. That Harrison will hold the vote of four years ago and make substantial social and political economy. gains in other states is an assured cer-

LET BEASON PREVAIL.

If it is wise to ignore the workingmen than Mr. Pingree will be defeated Ha is believed to be the only candidate in the field that can hold the laboringmen to a solid support of the ticket. There isn't a man in Michigan so blockheaded but that he knowsthis to be true. If he shall be nominated the third parry will be without a leg to stand on for he represents their ideas on the question. He is loved and respected by every man, woman the iske frome. and child that earn their bread sweat of their brows, because he has always hetened to the decised for fair wages and paid snem. of the convention to be held at Saginaw to nominate the man that can separe the most. It is not alone necessary to name a man that will hold every republican vote, but it is of paramount importance to name one that will attract democratic and peoples' party votes. In showing the weakness of other candidates THE HERALD has been inspired by a patriotic purpose to make it plain that Mr. Pin-gree's commation is for the cest interests of the party. If the republicans in state convention shall decide otherwise, THE HERALD will not be obliged to retract a single word it has said to give the nominee its loyal and enthusiastic support. It has predicted what the democratic press will do and the future will vindicate the correctness of its predictions. To be forewarned is to be forearmed and despite the cruel calumnies of what ought to have been its honorable opponent, THE HERALD will be found in the front rank of the independently, but not insanely republican papers, fighting for the success of the Saginaw ticket.

SPANISH newspapers of New Mexico have organized a press association of their own. They have agreed to refuse all advertisements unless they are written in the Spanish language. ALL loyal republicans have confidence enough in their fellows to rest secure that their united action is for the best interests of the whole, but they view with alarm the attempts being made to strangle the individuality of delegates to the state convention.

WAS A FAIR TEST

The Eleventh Ward Caucus Was for Pingree

BY A VOTE OF TWO TO ONE

A Misunderstanding Led to Two Caucuses, But Both Were for Pingree and McCoy.

At the time and place designated in the official call usued by the city committee, nearly forty of the most prominent republicans of the eleventh ward held their caucus at Burleigh hall last pignt to elect delegates to the county convention. In the absence of the chairman of the ward committee, Dr. F. E. Rosencrans was called to the chair and business was begun in deliberate and regular manner.

J.W. Eby and J. C. Van Heulen were elected tellers. George H. Outhouse notary public, was sent for and the tellers were sworn in. On the first bailot George H. Jacobs was unanimously elected delegate, receiving twenty-nin-votes. On the next ballot Dr. F. E Rosenkrans received thirty-two out of thirty-four votes. On the third ballot G.W. Eby received twenty-seven out of twenty-eight votes. After unanimously electing Doctor Rosenkrans chairman of the delegation the caucus adjourned.

A Side Caucus During the caucus about a dozen per sons gathered in Graham's feed store across the way and held a caucus. Fremont Skeel was elected chairman and John Scheffer secretary.

About the time balloting was reached Alderman Jacobs came in told the gathering that the regular convention was in session in Burleigh hall. Those in attendance ignored the alderman's remarks and proceeded with the ballot-ing. Not more than ten votes were cast for any of the nominees. The balloting resulted in the election of John Dregge, John A. Brummeler and Fremont Skeels. As alternates Messrs. Wilcox, John Scheffer and Le Sage Van Ten Brock were elected. Alderman Jacobs received several ballots for delegate, but they were scattered around the tellers' table and evidently not

The first named delegates, elected at The first named delegates, elected at the time and place designated by the city committee, in a regular manner, are known to be outspokenly in favor of Mayor Pingree's nomination. They are also favorable to McCoy for treasurer. It is also understood that Mr. Dregge and his colleagues are for Pingree and his colleagues are for Pingree and McCoy to that it would gree and McCoy, so that it would ap-pear the eleventh ward is solid for Pingree. The division into two conven-tions was brought about by a misunder-standing and the ambition of several gentlemen to go to Saginaw, and will be adjusted without difficulty.

Mr. Dregge Explains, Those present at the feed store caucus were Fremont Skeels, Charles Van-anden, H. W. TenBroek — Cook, Major W. A. Clark, Nicholas Buss, — Gridley, James M. Wilcox, E. A. Among the furniture men that cantered into the Morton yesterday was F. A. Shale of Rochester. Next to an artistic piece of furniture Mr. Shale admires Grover Cleveland more than anything else. Sometimes he admits his admiration if he happens to be talking politics with anyone. While chatting with a reporter for THE HES-ALD yesterday Mr. Shale said: "This talk of the Tammany men that Cleveland is weak among the democrats of New York is all nonsense. If his nomi-nation had been left to a popular vote of the democrats of the state David B. would never have been in it. He wouldn't anyway if he hadn't sprung wouldn't anyway it he hadn't sprung a snap convention on the party. Mr. Cleveland is stronger with the masses of New York democracy than ever be-fore, and if he doesn't carry the state it won't be on account of personal unpopularity. Tammany won't fight against him, that is certain. It probably won't remove any great amount of its clothing and fight for him either. When election day comes the Tam-many leaders will probably knife him many leaders will probably knife him in the city in order to keep control of the municipal offices, just as they did four years ago. But if Cleveland is defeated it certainly won't be because he lacked the personal elements of strength to carry the state. If he can't carry it no democrat can. Hill is a brilliant fellow, and is popular with his party, but the general feeling is that he was a little previous in his efforts to drag off the nomination this time. If he behaves himself for the next four years, I think New York and all the rest of the democratic states will will-ingly concede to him the nomination." Speaking of the furniture outlook, Mr. Shale said: "I don't think there will be any very heavy buying just at present. I have been looking around but I haven't bought anything vet and there are a great many more that are doing the same. You can't tell how business will open up this year. It is a presidential year and that has a tendency to upset things. Then the

John Westrate, a inhorer aged 45 years, was killed yesterday morning at 6:80 by a G. R. & I. freight train at the West Leonard street crossing. He stepped from the C. & W. M. track to avoid an approaching train, and while walking across the G. R. & I. track. which is forty feet distant, he was looking back at the train on the other track. The pilot of the freight engine struck him in the chest. The train was runing slowly at the time and was stopped before running two car lengths after the unfortunate man was struck. He was employed by Contractor Murtee on the Elizabeth street sewer, a short distance from the crossing. Mr. Mustee earned that a man had been hurt by the train and went to see who it was. He found Westrate lying upon the walk a few feet from the track. He was not dead but appeared to be in terrible agony. He Delivered the Keys, Coroner Bradish and Dr. Apley were summoned and upon reaching the house they found the injured man lying upon the floor, dead. He had died within an hour after the accident occurred. An examination revealed that his left shoulder blade was broken, several rits were fractured, the ends of which had pierced his longs and abdomen, and several cuts and bruises were found upon his head and body.
